The Jeanne and Edward Arnold Library
Endowment in Science and Engineering

Edward H. “E.H.” Arnold (’61) is the former Chairman, Chief Executive Officer, and President of Arnold Industries, Inc., a transportation and logistics holding company in Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

Following his graduation from Notre Dame, E.H. was a first lieutenant in the Army for two years and then joined New Penn Motor Express, Inc., as an assistant traffic manager. He moved up through the company, becoming President in 1974, a position he held until 1997, when he formed Arnold Industries. He is also the former chairman of Arnold Logistics.

E.H. has been a member of Notre Dame’s Advisory Council for the Hesburgh Libraries since 1991. He is also Vice Chairman of the board of trustees at Lebanon Valley College.

E.H.’s wife, Jeanne, retired as the Senior Vice President of patient care services at Good Samaritan Hospital in Lebanon, Ohio.

The Jeanne and Edward Arnold Library Endowment in Science and Engineering is pivotal in supporting the Hesburgh Libraries as they provide information resources, programs, and services to students, faculty, and researchers who study and develop the technologies that have the potential to make a significant and positive difference in environmental protection, healthcare, transportation, information transfer, and energy utilization in this country and around the world.

In addition to this endowment, E.H. has also endowed the directorship of the Hesburgh Libraries and established a Named library collection in Germanic studies.
