Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Coss established the Coss Family Collection in Irish Studies in 2000. Larry and Virginia reside in Sunfish Lake, Minnesota, a suburb of the Twin Cities. The family has a passion for horses and equestrian competitions. Larry is the founder of Green Tree Financial, Inc., which grew to become the third-largest publicly traded consumer lender in the United States. He is a South Dakota rancher, specializing in Angus beef, and a Wisconsin rancher, operating a reining horse facility. A member of the Board of Trustees of Saint Mary’s College, Larry also serves on the Advisory Council for Graduate Studies and Research at Notre Dame.

Virginia is a Bush Foundation Fellow, with an MBA from the University of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minnesota. She is on the boards of the Ordway Center for the Performing Arts and St. Thomas Academy. Their two youngest children, Laura (’03) and James (’05), are Notre Dame graduates.

The outstanding support of the Coss Fund has enabled the Hesburgh Libraries to make magnificent acquisitions in the history of Northern Ireland and the 1798 Rebellion, as well as biographical, autobiographical, and critical works, and titles in Irish literature, archaeology, art and architecture, religion, sociology, folklore, and rare books.
