Samuel and Kathleen Valenti of Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, have two children, one of whom is a member of the Notre Dame Class of 1998. Now president and founder of Valenti Capital Corporation, Sam has been with Masco Capital Corporation since 1968, serving most recently as president. He also served as vice president of investments for its parent company, Masco Corporation, a Fortune 500 firm.

Sam is the former chairman of the investment advisory committee of Michigan’s $50 billion retirement system. Katie Valenti serves on the boards of the Children’s Hospital, the Michigan Cancer Foundation, and the Academy of the Sacred Heart.

Because of the Valenti Endowment, the Hesburgh Libraries are able to acquire post-medieval materials from the Cinquecento to the contemporary era; materials in Renaissance Italian studies; the writings of world-renowned thinkers such as Leonardo Bruni and Leonardo da Vinci; the intellectual poetry of the scholar Petrarcha; the love sonnets of the Dolce stil nuovo; and contemporary Italian literature, film, and music. It offers the means to address deficiencies in Italian art history, particularly as it is embodied in the religious works of art and architecture patronized by the Catholic Church.
