The Walsh Endowment enables the acquisition of resources that deal with military science and the subject as it relates to other disciplines, including peace studies, history, political science, economics, social studies, area studies, and business.